A custom-made case for long-range equipment

The XL NUPROL case with pre-cut foam is designed for those who want custom-fit protection for their replicas, rifles, or equipment. Thanks to its Pick 'n' Pluk system, you can easily create a custom shape that perfectly conforms to the contours of your gear.

Secure transport with pre-cut foam

Unlike wave foam, pre-cut foam allows for more precise attachment of equipment, especially for replicas with optics, bipods, or silencers. It absorbs shocks while limiting internal movement, ensuring safe transport .

IP67 waterproof protection and reinforced locking mechanism

This case is resistant to water ingress, dust, and impacts. Its peripheral sealing gasket, 6 lockable latches , and pressure relief valve make it an ideal solution for air transport or use in extreme conditions .

Maximum mobility with handle and wheels

Despite its XL size, the case is easy to move thanks to its sturdy wheels and side handle . A top handle is also integrated for quick two-handed handling or vertical positioning.

FAQ

What is the difference between wavy foam and pre-cut foam?

Pre-cut foam allows for a custom fit to the shape of the replica, unlike wave foam which cushions without conforming to the shape.

Can a rifle with optics and a bipod be stored inside?

Yes, the Pick 'n' Pluk foam can be adjusted to accommodate complex equipment such as glasses or a support.

Is this model permitted in the hold of an airplane?

Yes, its pressure relief valve and locking points make it suitable for transport in the hold.
