Thanks to its 360° pivoting system and 19° tilt in all directions, it offers optimal freedom of adjustment to adapt to the most complex terrain.

Its patented spiral extending leg mechanism, combined with a steel ball lock, ensures quick and precise height adjustment.

The TLU-BP02-A's low-profile Picatinny rail mount maximizes the compactness of the rifle-bipod assembly while allowing smooth 360° panning and controlled 19° tilt forward, rearward, and sideways.

The structure is designed for maximum durability thanks to its Type III Class 2 anodization, ensuring high resistance to abrasion and weathering.

The legs are interchangeable and compatible with most aftermarket pads thanks to a quick detach system with trigger lock (QD). In all circumstances, this bipod provides unmatched stability and exemplary tactical adaptability.
