History of AK74-U:

The AKS74U or AKSU, is a compact weapon from the great line of Kalashnikov which was put into service at the end of the 70s. Designed on an AK74 basis, it is intended for special forces, Spetsnaz, close guards and armored unit members.

Its low barrel length significantly increases the weapon's rate of fire to the detriment of its accuracy, range and stability.

Its minimalist dimensions and folding stock, make it a discreet weapon, with a small footprint, perfect for close-range CQB or urban combat, at high intensity.

History of the MOS brand:

The MOS Manufacture brand installed in HONG KONG, is first of all known for its manufacture of accessories for airsoft, with an excellent quality / price ratio, recognized by all.

Eager to develop their own replica, it offers a very qualitative range, acclaimed by airsofters: ARCTURUS
