The Ultralite™ stock is a collapsible style carbine style stock made specifically for the DAM™. It has seven positions of length adjustment to fit a variety of arm lengths. The stock provides an extra wide cheek guard and low stock rod position designed to accommodate any type of mask. A tapered interior stock adjustment pin is used to reduce wobble and improve stability. A Sticky Grip™ butt pad and metal skid plate reduces wear and protects against impacts. All of the weight from the stock has been reduced and it has the ability to fit a variety of tank sizes.
