The new version of the replica of the famous Russian assault rifle modernized and improved.

The AK-12-ME (Mosfet Enhanced) is an update of the previous AK12 Arcturus. The perfect compromise between realism and performance with its steel exterior and its new MOSFET allowing increased responsiveness and rate of fire, while protecting the contactors.

Another improvement; the addition of a 24K (21 TPA) High-torque motor with neodymium magnets and MIM steel pinion. The battery is housed in the removable top cover by activating the lever of the handguard allowing the top to slide back in order to disassemble it.

- Comes with a folding rear sight, an adjustable 30/130 bb magazine and a 500 bb hi-cap.
- Each replica has a unique serial number .
- Length: 880-950mm
- Adjustable and foldable stock
- T-Dean wiring
- Gearbox: Reinforced version 3 with quick spring change
- Many reinforced internal parts (Nozzle with O-Ring)
- Micro-switch trigger combined with a mosfet improving responsiveness and rate of fire
- Precision barrel: 6.01mm x 430mm
- Hop-up adjustment by rotary knob
