Electroshock 200,000 volts.

- With cut-off wrist strap making the device inoperative, if it is torn from its user.

The electric shocker POWER 200 can be used in self-defense against all types of attackers as well as on dangerous animals. The high voltage generated goes through even layers of thick clothing (including leather). The powerful crackling of the device will in some cases lead the aggressor to flee.

The user can not in any case be touched by the electric shock even in contact with the aggressor.

- Provided with a safety switch to prevent accidental tripping.
- Works with a 9 volt LR61 battery (not included).

Can be used very simply with one hand.
