This oil is designed to minimize friction related to metal-to-metal contact. It is therefore ideal for the gearboxes of AEG replica gearboxes.

The tip of the pen allows you to effectively reach the finest corners. Its permeable consistency allows it to leave a thin layer of anti-friction protection on each wearing surface, without it being necessary to dismantle the entire gearbox for maintenance.

Anti-friction oil for bearings, gears, detents... Quantum

Most fire control parts will be under a lot of pressure during operation. This high-quality oil not only prevents excessive wear, but also eliminates uneven friction, making your trigger return smoother. This oil reduces contact friction between metals, so it is also suitable for gearbox bearings and gears.
