The heart of the replica is a v2 Long gearbox with the ability to quickly change springs without dismantling the carcass. The components used allow the replica to fire a bullet at a speed of 405 FPS. The electric drive of the replica allows it to be fired in both Semi and Full-Auto mode. A weaker M90 spring is included in the set to adapt the replica to shorter range operations or in CQB (Close Quarters Battle) buildings. Accuracy and range are ensured by a rotating Hop-Up chamber and a 500mm long internal barrel.
