The Skywoods Tactical Orghini L70192 - 1250 Lumens tactical flashlight is an essential tool for professionals in the military, law enforcement and outdoor enthusiasts such as hunting and sport shooting. Thanks to its 1250 lumens output, it guarantees optimal lighting in all situations, even the most demanding.

The light beam, generated by a latest generation XF-S2 LED chip, reaches an impressive range of 240 meters, allowing excellent visibility in low light conditions. The aircraft-grade aluminum used for its housing ensures exceptional resistance to shocks and wear, while offering remarkable lightness. Compliant with the IP66 standard, this lamp is water-resistant and can be used in rain or humid environments.

Intelligent Lighting Modes: With two lighting modes - high power and strobe - this light adapts perfectly to a variety of needs: long-range illumination, signaling or disorientation of a target. These options are accessible via a classic tail switch or a remote pressure switch for easy use in tactical situations.

M-LOK Compatibility: Specially designed for M-LOK rails, this version guarantees a solid and stable installation, perfectly adapted to modern weapons equipped with this mounting system. The ergonomic design facilitates quick and intuitive handling, ensuring optimal performance in all situations.

Rechargeable and Durable: Powered by a rechargeable 18650 battery, this light provides up to 2.4 hours of runtime at full power. The included charging base allows for quick and convenient recharging, ensuring maximum uptime in any situation.

Adopted by professionals and tactical enthusiasts, the Skywoods Tactical Orghini L70192 - 1250 Lumens is a reliable, powerful and durable lamp. Whether you are on a mission, hunting or at the shooting range, this lamp will accompany you in all your activities.
