Authentic and Elegant Design

This natural leather armguard features a classic design that will appeal to traditional archery enthusiasts. Its brown finish gives it a timeless aesthetic, perfectly harmonizing with equipment made of wood or natural materials.

Comfort and Custom Fit

Equipped with an adjustable lacing system, this arm guard easily adapts to different forearm sizes, providing a secure fit without compromising freedom of movement. The soft leather ensures a pleasant contact with the skin, reducing the risk of irritation during prolonged sessions.

Effective Protection

With a length of 18 cm, this arm guard effectively covers the forearm, protecting the skin from friction and shocks caused by the bowstring. This protection is essential to prevent injuries and improve comfort when shooting.

Durability and Maintenance

The natural leather used for this arm guard is selected for its strength and longevity. With proper care, such as regular application of leather care products, it will retain its appearance and functionality for many years.
