An ideal setup for long airsoft replicas

With its 13-inch length, this M-LOK airsoft handguard is perfectly suited to M4 replicas designed for outdoor use, milsim, or modern tactical setups. Its length improves front control of the replica while enhancing its realistic and aggressive appearance.

Lighter structure and improved maneuverability

The skeletonized design reduces weight at the front of the platform to improve overall balance. This, in part, allows for smoother transitions and reduces fatigue during long sessions. Despite its elongated shape, the handguard maintains excellent handling feel.

Optimized ergonomics for dynamic gameplay

The hollowed-out central section promotes a natural and comfortable grip. This slim profile improves control during rapid movements or changes of position. The feel is immediately more modern and fluid compared to traditional handguards.

Full M-LOK compatibility

The integrated M-LOK system allows for the easy installation of various airsoft accessories such as tactical grips, lights, lasers, or protective panels. This modularity offers advanced customization tailored to the needs of both CQB and milsim players.

Full-length Picatinny rail

The integral Picatinny top rail allows for the mounting of compatible optics, red dot sights, folding sights, or tactical accessories. This continuity improves the consistency of modern configurations and facilitates the creation of custom setups.

Modern free-float design

The free-float system enhances the overall rigidity of the platform while giving the replica a more professional look. Its precise machining ensures clean integration and a particularly refined finish.

- Use: Upgrades to M4 airsoft replicas
- Compatibility: M-LOK Accessories
- Rail: Full top Picatinny
- Style: Modern Tactical SLR SD
- Format: 13 inches
- Setup: Milsim and outdoor terrain
