A compact format designed for speed

Thanks to its low profile, this red dot sight integrates seamlessly with many compatible platforms. Its large screen facilitates target acquisition while maintaining excellent peripheral visibility, a real advantage during rapid-fire sequences.

Robust aluminum construction

The aluminum body provides good resistance to impacts and heavy use. Lightweight and compact, it minimizes added weight to the weapon while offering excellent durability.

Precise settings

Windage and elevation adjustments allow for fine-tuning the point of impact to achieve a precise zero. The rubberized side buttons also make it easy to adjust the brightness according to lighting conditions, with simple operation even while wearing gloves.

Versatile use

Whether for target shooting or airsoft , this optic improves target acquisition speed and aiming comfort. Powered by a CR2032 battery, included, it's ready to use immediately.
